PERFUMES OF GRASSE - MADE IN FRANCE

Blue Cedar

Jean-François Thizon

Perfumer

” Elegant and whimsical, his creations reflect the Broadway musicals he loves and that fuel his passion for singing. ”

Jean-François Thizon has a particular affinity with the Middle East. He loves the nobility of its materials as well as the mystery of its evocations.

Blue Cedar

“ This Lebanon cedar with silvery-blue needles Releases a mystical, captivating and woody fragrance ”

What do the great trees dream of ? Their majesty seems to hold the secret of the world's memory. The blue cedar embodies the mystery and magic of the Atlas, with arid lands shaped by desert winds and skies filled with millions of stars. Its roots carry the traces of its journeys. Under the shelter of its vast foliage, it has captured the blue of the sky and the sea, tinged with emerald and silver. On its highest branches, clouds and flocks of birds glide by. Because it belongs as much to the earth as to the sky, the blue cedar possesses both strength and grace.

Tubérose n°31

Elodie Bernard

Perfumer

” I created this fragrance drawing inspiration from sweet citrus, fresh grapefruit and delicate tuberose leaves. Evoking a summer flower field, I captured the contrast between the brightness of mandarin and the floral sweetness for a captivating sensory experience.

Elodie Bernard loves the flower and citrus gardens of Provence and the South. She enjoys going for a walk through them to exalt herself with scents and compose bouquets, which she then translates into elegant and inspiring fragrant creations.

Tuberoose n°31

“The tuberose, a white flower with a sublime fragrance is a captivating princess with an opalescent reflection”

It's a tale of summer and blurred photography.

One can glimpse a few graceful and dancing silhouettes in the air of a July afternoon. Are they fairies of women ? The white light ignites the air and blurs the outlines. Summer is like a flame that exalts all scents and desires in the hottest hours of the day. It's the hour of white weddings in the garden, the union of purity and sensuality, where the tuberose, a flower with a majestic fragrance, opens in great beauty.

Vintage 95

Guillaume Cresp

Perfumer

” Guillaume Cresp expresses his emotions and creativity through a rich palette of olfactory selections.

Guillaume Cresp is a man of chemistry and alchemy, of emotions and innovation. He enjoys gathering the finest natural and synthetic materials to take them towards the senses.

Vintage 95

*The fragrance of great vintage wines
Passionately and powerfully represented*

1995, the year of great vintage wines and the promise of grand crus. Great wines share with perfume the exaltation of aromas and the senses. Like perfume, they draw their origins and their civilising inspiration from the Mediterranean. Like perfume, they are best discovered with your eyes closed. Like a secret being revealed.

Vintage 95 was born under the most auspicious of circumstances.

The heat of the summer bathed the grapes in sunshine right up to the harvest. The weather gave the tannins a fine patina and melted them, giving the nose and the palate all the fleshiness of the fruit.

*Warm Spicy -
Red Berries - Strawberry*

Rose - Coffee

Purple Rose

Maurice Remond

Perfumer

” I imagined a luminous, irresistible essence, merging delicate floral notes of roses with a powdery accord. Vanilla and musk add infinite softness. This harmonious composition combines flowers and fruit in an olfactory symphony, expressing the softness and intensity of the rose. ”

For Maurice Remond, perfumery is a story of childhood. A native of Grasse, his earliest memories are of roses and jasmine. As a poet and artist, he naturally chose to transform his childhood enchantments into fragrant emotions.

Purple Rose

*When rose is passionate and velvety
Its fragrance invites to ardour and love*

It is the muse of perfumers and poets.

The rose is as much a symbol as a flower. If it is unique, it is above all multiple, in the diversity of its origins, colours and inspirations.

Like all love stories, each rose is always the first and always eternal.

So each new rose is the beginning of a new story, the first line of a new poem.

Purple Rose is the absolute rose. There's nothing innocent about this rose. Purple Rose has the radiance and incandescence of passion. It's a carnal rose, half silk, half velvet, that reveals itself as one reveals and abandons oneself.

Havana 1902

Lucie Lopez

Perfumer

” She draws her inspiration from her travels to the ends of the earth, soaking up local flavours and smells.

Lucie Lopez is a keen traveller and epicurean. From her expeditions to the ends of the earth, she draws scents, colours and tastes that she then assembles in her creations, which are in turn olfactory or culinary.

Havana 1902

“ *The warm notes of Cuban tobacco
Blends with the ambience and distinction of Havana* ”

Some names carry the enchantment of exoticism and the grace of nostalgia.

In 1902, Havana celebrated its independence. Revolutionary chants mixed with the rhythms of the salsa set the island and the tropical night ablaze. The powerful smells of cigars and old rums celebrate the taste and pride of new-found freedom.

Black Vanilla

Elodie Bernard

Perfumer

” I designed this fragrance to evoke an extraordinary escapade, combining delicacy and sensuality. I wanted to create a luxurious atmosphere for your home, with vanilla with oriental and gourmand facets, enriched with orange blossom and coffee flower.

Elodie Bernard loves the flower and citrus gardens of Provence and the South. She loves going for a walk through them, exalting herself with the scents and composing bouquets which she then translates into elegant and inspiring fragrance creations.

Black Vanilla

*Deep and invigorating, with notes of amber
Black vanilla powerfully reveals itself*

*A rare and noble spice, with ebony-black pods, this vanilla hides its game well.
Powerful, it is a journey, a vertigo.*

Disturbing, it is the sign of a most sensual and sublime fragrance. Deep and solar, spicy and exhilarating, Black Vanilla combines the elation of the day with the mystery of the night.

Its opening notes of jasmine and orange blossom gracefully wrap its crisp facets of pear and mandarin orange.
